The Gazette...

The Mountain Valley Gazette will attempt to bring the vast geographic areas that make up the communities of Squaw Valley, Dunlap, Miramonte and Pinehurst together as one.

This of course will be no easy task. But we will try.

For such a small community, there are quite a few events that go on during the course of a year that go either unnoticed or unattended. The Mountain Valley Gazette will attempt to notify the mountain valley communities of as many events as possible.

We will also attempt to provide interesting articles, trivia, current events, news, and whatever seems interesting to the community.

In addition, the Gazette will also try and provide a forum for the community to discuss various topics that are beneficial to us all.

An attempt will be made to provide information from the local Sheriffs office, as well as any other county office that we may rely upon regularly.

Should you, or your organization want to promote your event, please email your information to us at:

Events@MountainValleyGazette.com.

The Gazette would also invite those who are interested in writing articles pertaining to our community, to submit them to Editor@MountainValleyGazette.com.

You can also visit our website at MountainValleyGazette.com. There you will find on-line versions of the newsletter, as well as our classified sections. Local business telephone numbers and links to our advertisers' websites will also be available on-line.

The Four Seasons Garden Club

The Four Seasons Garden Club meets the 3rd Thursday each month from 6:00 PM to 8:00 PM (except June, July & August) at the Bear Mountain Library Activity Center. Also we meet the first Tuesday every month at the Nature Trail for our Work Party at 8 AM. For more information please call Carley @ 338-0335

The Four Seasons Garden Club meets each month (sometimes these dates and times are changed, so be sure to check) at the Bear Mountain Library. We have a plant auction, program and refreshments at most meetings.

The club has fund raisers each year. Most notably the Arts and Crafts Fair held the first Saturday in October. All money that is raised goes back into the Nature Trail for maintenance and improvements. The Nature Trail is located behind the Bear Mountain Library and is open to the public.

The 20 year plan for the Garden Club is now being implemented. The new Educational Training Platform has been installed and plans for additional improvements include a Pergola, Benches, and a Compost Area. The Nature Trail was created to be used by the community and is open free of charge to the public during Library hours. Arrangements can be made to use it at other times through the Library.

Should you want to contact the Garden Club via email, you can. A representative of the Garden Club can be reached at gardenclub@mountainvalleygazette.com

Our Mission

"It is better to build a child than to mend an adult." This is the main objective of the 4-H program. In 4-H, volunteer leaders encourage youth to gain knowledge and learn practical life skills and to apply both in their project area. Members learn to work together as a team and learn decision-making skills through their project work, judging contests and other 4-H activities. Mountain Valley 4-H is committed to reaching the young people of the Squaw Valley and Dunlap and Miramonte areas.

Year End Party

Ok, so let's all get together and "hang out"!

We will be at Hume Lake at the Sandy Cove beach area

WHEN: Sunday, June 27th

WHERE: Hume Lake – Sandy Cove area

WHO: Anyone in our club or interested in joining!

TIME: 2:00pm – 6:00pm

Bring something to snack on - to share. Towels, beach wear, etc. will make for a great time. We will all just hang out and have a chance to chat with everyone and also it's a good time to gather ideas for next year too.

Visit the 4-H website from

Oak to Timberline

Submitted by Cathy Murrieta

Who Are We?

The Oak to Timberline Fire Safe Council is a community based organization in and around the foothills and mountain communities. Through the facilitation of the Hume Lake Ranger District of the Sequoia National Forest and the CalFire and Fire Protection, Fresno-Kings Ranger Unit, our council is well under way to becoming a viable Non-Profit Corporation with a mission, "promote fire safety by providing information, education, support incentives and projects that encourage fire safety in our communities, serving east of the Friant-Kern Canal and south of the Kings River, From "Oak to Timberline".

With the cooperation and dedication of our partners, such as the USFS, CalFire, NPS along with the tenacity of this Fire Safe Council and the strong base of community support from residents, ranches, businesses, clubs, and organizations, we have already begun to generate an action based, goal oriented group of participants who are absolutely focused on our mission ahead.

The success of this council depends upon the willingness and participation of people just like you!

We are all concerned about potentially devastating effects of wildfire on our families, homes, businesses and neighborhoods. Won't you join us? Monthly Meetings for '2010', 4th Thursday of the month, 7 pm (except November and December) in the Activity Room at the Bear Mountain Library on Highway 180 in Squaw Valley.

Painting Your House!

The trim may be peeling, or maybe a room or two needs brightening up. Spending more time outdoors means you may have had a chance to notice areas of your home's exterior that need attention. Trim or any other wood areas that are peeling need to be protected before the rain can cause more damage. Any wood structures that are near the ground level need to be protected by a coat of paint now to prevent termites getting in later. The little critters just love damp wood near the ground. A paint barrier really helps in keeping them out..

Whether painting inside or out, good planning and preparation are the key to an easy successful job. Do-it-yourselfers often go astray by not spending enough time planning out the job first and then properly preparing the surfaces they'll be painting.

Planning starts with choosing the right kind of paint. That requires knowing what kind of paint or surface you'll be trying to cover. Latex paints don't adhere well to oil-based paints, and painting over stained surfaces may result in problems as well. If in doubt about what you have on your walls now, take a chip from an inconspicuous corner to the paint store with you. Tip: check the garage; if you didn't paint the room last time and leave a little bit of paint in the original can, then perhaps the previous owner may have left you this evidence.

Armed with the supplies you need, you are ready to tackle preparing the surface. TSP is a good product for cleaning the walls of dust and grime before you paint. This cleaner also dulls the surface of glossy paints when repainting. Rinse with clear water when finished and let dry. This is essential if you want good adherence. Be sure to use rubber gloves and goggles when cleaning and later when painting as well.

When priming a surface use a product like Kilz to hide any stains that won't come off with regular cleaning. This product is a good stain blocker but any mold or mildew must be removed first.

Protecting the floor and furnishings is best done with two types of drop cloths. A good heavy canvas drop cloth is great for the floor, since it stays in place and doesn't tear or rip when moving ladders and supplies around.

Light weight plastic is good for draping over furniture and fixtures. Drips are inevitable, but getting a roller that has a drip catching cup will work extremely well.

Brushes and rollers come in a wide variety of types and styles. Get the best you can afford. Good brushes can be used for years and make the work go fast.

When the job is done, save any leftover paint for touch-ups later. To avoid a skin on the paint surface, simply cut a circle of wax paper and lay on top. Even if there isn't much paint left, it's a good idea to keep the can, since it will make it easier to identify the paint type or match the color later.

A great paint job will bring a lot of pleasure so take the time to plan and prepare.

What To Do If... An Accidental Poisoning Occurs

1. Stay Calm

2. Call 911 or the Poison Control Center:

1-800-222-1222

This is not intended as professional advice, it's provided for information purposes only.

Everyone should have their own plan should someone ingest poison.

The Poison Control Center telephone number was valid as of June 2010. Please check often.

How can I be prepared for a poison emergency?

- Call your poison center at 1-800-222-1222. The poison center can send you telephone stickers or magnets with the emergency phone number. Post that number on or near your telephones.
- If you have a poisoning emergency call 1-800-222-1222.

What are the most common poisons for children?

- Cosmetics such as perfume or nail polish, and personal care products such as deodorant and soap.
- Cleaning products (for example, laundry detergent and floor cleaners).
- Pain medicines (analgesics) such as acetaminophen or ibuprofen.
- Foreign bodies and toys including silica gel packages to remove moisture in packaging and glow products.
- Topical preparations such as diaper rash products, hydrogen peroxide, acne preparations, or calamine lotion.

What are the most common poisons for adults?

- Pain medicines (analgesics) which can be over-the-counter, prescribed, or illegal. Examples include aspirin, oxycodone, acetaminophen, methadone, and ibuprofen.
- Sedatives (drugs to reduce anxiety), hypnotics (sleeping pills), and antipsychotics (drugs used to treat mental illness).
- Household cleaning products
- Antidepressants (drugs to treat depression)
- Cardiovascular drugs (drugs to treat heart disease)
- Alcohols

What are the most dangerous poisons?

The most common poisons are not necessarily the most dangerous ones. Some of the more dangerous types of poisons that could be found in a home include:

- Antifreeze and windshield washer products
- Some medicines
- Corrosive cleaners like drain openers, oven cleaners, toilet bowl cleaners and rust removers
- Fuels such as kerosene, lamp oil, gasoline, and tiki-torch oil
- Pesticides

As well, teens and adults should be aware of the dangers of improperly used medications, inhalants, carbon monoxide, and alcohols.

Why is your local poison center an important part of your community?

Besides saving lives, poison centers are at least three times more cost effective than child safety seats, smoke detectors, or bicycle helmets. Poison centers are as cost effective as childhood immunizations. Every dollar spent on a poison center saves about $7 in unnecessary health care expenses. Poison centers eliminate unnecessary physician office visits, hospital admissions, lab testing and ambulance runs. A very substantial cost savings is realized for every case of long-term hemodialysis, neurologic impairment, or disability which is prevented.

Why should I call the poison center?

Poison experts are at the poison center 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. Their help is free and confidential. Calling the poison center is faster and cheaper than calling an ambulance and going to the emergency room, and many poison exposures can be treated at home.

If you have a poisoning emergency call 1-800-222-1222.
